

SUMMER CAMP:

EXPLORE THE MAKING OF MEDICINE

FREE ADMISSION

The Stack Family Center for Biopharmaceutical Education and Training (CBET) hosts this week-long experience for rising 7th- and 8th-grade students. With team-based learning, hands-on projects, games, and crafts, this summer camp will engage and inspire. Participants will learn about medicinal plants and modern therapies, practice lab skills, and race to find a cure for an impending epidemic. This immersive experience is led by Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences faculty and students.
